Weekends are special. The nine-to-five pattern is broken for a while, and you can do your own thing for yourself and your family.

Being in touch by Long Distance, for instance. Weekends are special for telephone rates, too. Rates are low all weekend long. You can call across country for as little as a dollar plus tax. Saturday as well as Sunday.

So why not call early this weekend and avoid the Sunday evening "rush hours."

■ Twenty-three new prime-time shows and a couple of hundred specials are what's new in the networks' 1969-70 television season.

There are few innovations. ABC has a 90-minute, made-for-television movie series, and two back-to-back 45-minute series. Another series, Love, American Style, consists of several segments within a one-hour period.

NBC has The Bold Ones, three different hour-long series alternating in the same time period.

■ These are the format innovations, if you'd call them that, for the season. We hope, however, that there will also be some new things happening within the standard program formats.

The new season's dramatic series are slick and well-produced. Some will treat current problems—poverty, racism, the youth revolution. Undoubtedly these shows and the comedies and variety hours will provide entertainment for nearly all tastes.

There is a better-than-average selection of movies on the schedule, and the specials as always promise the most memorable viewing of the new season. It is the scheduled specials and the unscheduled ones—news stories of national and international importance—that give television its immediacy and its importance.

■ This Preview Issue tells all that is now known about the coming season. Television's most exciting hours, as always, will depend upon its coverage of the news events man can be most proud of—and most ashamed of—during the coming months.

Reminder: See TV Guide Listings for exact times in your area.

SUNDAY ON NBC

Nature stories, cartoons, adventures, comedies — they're all part of the incomparable and

- (A) Wonderful World of Disney (7:30pm), Next, the premiere of
- (B) The Bill Cosby Show (8:30pm). Big Bill plays a coach in a Los Angeles high school. Although his teams don't always come out on top, Bill does. He's one of the season's big winners in this hilarious series. Then
- (C) there's Bonanza (9:00pm), returning for its eleventh season. Starring as the Cartwrights are (who else?) Lorne Greene, Dan Blocker, Michael Landon. . .
- (D) The Bold Ones premieres at 10:00pm. It's a new concept in television — three dramas rotating in the same time period. In one series, Burl Ives, Joseph Campanella and James Farentino star as three lawyers with a passion for justice; E. G. Marshall, John Saxon and David Hartman are in segments on the New Medicine; Leslie Nielsen and Hari Rhodes portray law enforcement officials in a troubled city.

MONDAY ON NBC

At 7:30pm, it's the premiere of

- (E) My World... And Welcome To It.

Stop the world; our hero, cartoonist John Monroe, wants to get off — and into a land of laughter all his own. And with the help of his cartoons (really James Thurber's), he does. William Windom, Joan Hotchkis

Dick "sock it to you" on

- (F) Rowan & Martin's Laugh-In.

It's the greatest season yet for this hour of hip humor. And climaxing the evening,

- (G) NBC Monday Night at the Movies (9:00pm). The first hit is "Nobody's Perfect," starring Doug McClure and James Whitmore.

Soon: "Frankie and Johnny" with Elvis Presley.

TUESDAY

TUESDAY ON NBC

Leading off the evening is

- (H) I Dream of Jeannie (7:30pm), on a new night and with a new wrinkle—Jeannie (Barbara Eden) and Tony (Larry Hagman) are getting married. (Who could resist a 2,500-year-old genie?) At 8:00pm, meet two other young marrieds
- (I) on The Debbie Reynolds Show, the vivacious Miss Reynolds' first TV series. Debbie's not the gal to be outdone by her sports-writer husband. And amid the friendly struggling, you'll find Debbie's show fast, funny and fresh. All of Tuesday evening seems to have marriage on its mind. On
- (J) Julia (8:30pm), Corey, the son of war widow and nurse Julia Baker (Diahann Carroll), tries his best to find a new daddy, and Julia tries her best to cope with Corey and her crusty doctor boss, played by Lloyd Nolan. Then,
- (K) NBC Tuesday Night at the Movies (9:00pm). Opening the season is "The Ballad of Josie," starring Doris Day. Coming soon: "Tobruk" with Rock Hudson; "Duel at Diablo" with Sidney Poitier, James Garner.

Reminder: See TV Guide Listings for exact times in your area.

WEDNESDAY

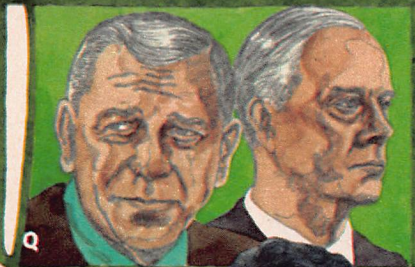

WEDNESDAY ON NBC

The '90's weren't so gay in the Wyoming Territory—they were rough and tough, and it took a lot of man to handle the action.

- (L) The Virginian (7:30pm) had what it took. He still does.
- (M) At 9:00pm, Kraft Music Hall presents an hour of music and merriment. Premiere host: Alan King. In weeks to come, Eddy Arnold, Wayne Newton and many more. Next, the premiere of
- (N) ...Then Came Bronson (10:00pm), on which you'll meet Jim Bronson, a cross-country man-on-a-motorcycle. There's really no way to describe this one—you've got to see it for yourself. (It's that different.) The star is dynamic Michael Parks.

THURSDAY ON NBC

At 7:30pm, share the adventures

- (O) of Daniel Boone. Fess Parker is daring Daniel. And this season, Roosevelt Grier co-stars. Then,
- (P) on Ironside (8:30pm), see how the law deals with San Francisco bad guys. Raymond Burr is the wheelchair-bound cop. And for solidly authentic police drama, stay tuned for
- (Q) Dragnet 1970 (9:30pm) starring Jack Webb, Harry Morgan. To round out the evening, see the
- (R) Dean Martin Show (10:00pm) with Goldie Hawn, Dom De Luise.

FRIDAY ON NBC

No danger is too great for the Cannons, owners of

- (S) The High Chaparral (7:30pm). Leif Erickson, Cameron Mitchell, Linda Cristal star. Then, go behind the scenes of a publishing empire for 90 exciting minutes on
- (T) The Name of the Game (8:30pm) The names of the stars are Gene Barry, Tony Franciosa and Robert Stack. Next, enter
- (U) Bracken's World (10:00pm), the high-powered world of the movie studio. Not a nice place to live, but exciting for a weekly visit—and the people are fascinating. Eleanor Parker stars.

SATURDAY ON NBC

Andy returns with a "with-it" hour of musical and variety. Guests on the premiere of

- (V) The Andy Williams Show (7:30pm): Petula Clark, Don Ho, the rocking Blood, Sweat & Tears.

- (W) Adam-12 (8:30pm) is the patrol car that carries policemen Martin Milner and Kent McCord toward everything from family arguments to armed robberies. Concluding the evening—and NBC Week—

- (X) NBC Saturday Night at the Movies (9:00pm).

YOU'RE GOING TO LIKE IT ON NBC

SPECIAL

You could say that the new season's lineup of specials is a splendid illustration of the old phrase "from the ridiculous to the sublime." The list ranges from "Frosty the Snowman" to Sir Laurence Olivier, from Raquel Welch to Queen Elizabeth II, from the boards of a burlesque house to the craters of the moon.

The quantity seems to be pretty close to what it was last season—there will be several every week.

As for quality, judgments about that will have to wait until the shows hit the air. But the preseason list promises many hours of entertainment and enlightenment. A sampling:

THE STARS

Don Adams is tentatively booked for a CBS special.

Woody Allen has a definite CBS date—next week, Sept. 21—with Dr. Billy Graham, the evangelist, joining Candice Bergen and the 5th Dimension on the guest list.

Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass tootle again on NBC Oct. 29.

Julie Andrews will star in an NBC special, aided by Harry Belafonte, on Nov. 9.

Ann-Margret does her second show for CBS Dec. 6.

Anne Bancroft is surrounded by seven men in what is described as "a one-hour tour de force" on NBC.

Jack Benny is back for his umpteenth special, over NBC, Dec. 3.

Johnny Carson steps out before bedtime Nov. 12, for an hour on NBC.

Perry Como will do one program for NBC again this season.

Tim Conway does one for CBS.

Bill Cosby's NBC special is scheduled for April Fools' Day.

Bing Crosby will do an hour of music and comedy for NBC on Dec. 18.

Tennessee Ernie Ford has a supporting cast of British performers for his Nov. 24 NBC hour, "The Peapicker in Piccadilly," for one of his two specials.

Mitzi Gaynor presents "Mitzi's 2nd Special" on NBC Oct. 13, with Ross Martin providing support.

Robert Goulet is set for an ABC hour, possibly a musical comedy.

Andy Griffith's annual CBS outing will probably be scheduled for spring.

Bob Hope celebrates his 20th season on TV with nine shows, including two 90-minute jobs—a revival of "Roberta" on Nov. 6 and the traditional Christmas tour of military bases. It all begins next week (Sept. 22) on NBC.

NEWS

Debbie Reynolds' Nov. 6 special, on NBC, is called "Debbie Reynolds and the Sound of Children."

Diana Ross and the Supremes are joined by the Temptations for "TCB on Broadway" Nov. 12, over NBC.

Rowan and Martin will do their first NBC special since starting Laugh-In.

Frank Sinatra sings again for CBS in November.

Frank Sinatra Jr. beats the old man to the punch with his own CBS special Oct. 19. Papa Frank is his guest, though, along with sister Nancy and friends Sammy Davis and Arte Johnson.

Ed Sullivan hopes to stage a really big (90-minute) edition of his CBS salmagundi in December. It would be "A Cavalcade of the Sixties."

Danny Thomas turns up in one CBS special this week ("Make Room for Granddaddy," Sept. 14) and another early in 1970.

Dionne Warwick stars in a CBS show this week too (Sept. 17), with Glen Campbell and Burt Bacharach.

Raquel Welch displays her talents in a special next spring.

Orson Welles has a commitment for one CBS special in 1969-70.

Flip Wilson gets an hour of NBC time next week (Sept. 22).

DRAMAS AND MUSICALS

Burlesque Is Alive and Swinging in Downtown Burbank resurrects a discarded theatrical form and dresses it up for exposure on NBC under the aegis of Laugh-In's producers.

CBS Playhouse promises at least four new 90-minute dramas during the 1969-70 season. The first, Oct. 7, is "Appalachian Autumn," starring Arthur Kennedy and Teresa Wright.

David Copperfield boasts one of the most impressive casts ever assembled for a TV drama: Sir Laurence Olivier, Sir Ralph Richardson, Sir Michael Redgrave, Dame Edith Evans, Emyln Williams, Wendy Hiller, Ron Moody, Richard Attenborough and, as David (man and boy), Robin Phillips and Alistair MacKenzie. The two-hour film was made in England for NBC.

Hallmark Hall of Fame starts its 19th season Nov. 21 with a spy drama, "The File on Devlin," starring David McCallum, Elizabeth Ashley and Dame Judith Anderson; then offers a musical children's story Dec. 6, "The Littlest Angel," with Fred Gwynne, Johnnie Whitaker, Cab Calloway, E.G. Marshall, Tony Randall and Connie Stevens; repeats "Teacher, Teacher" in May; and completes its NBC season → with two more productions.

Hans Brinker or The Silver Skates is NBC's new two-hour musical version of the Dutch treat, with Eleanor Parker, Richard Basehart and Cyril Ritchard in the cast, and Robin Askwith as Hans.

On Stage is doing five plays on NBC, including a repeat of last season's "Male of the Species" (aired last week); a sequel, "Female of the Species"; and "Mirror, Mirror, Off the Wall," with George C. Scott and Maureen Stapleton.

The Front Page, the imperishable Hecht-MacArthur comedy, had a Broadway revival recently, and that same repertory company, the Plumstead Playhouse, will bring its city-room histrionics to TV in December or January.

MUSIC

S. Hurok Presents—Part III is a CBS hour displaying a pair of Russian musicians—pianist Emil Gilels and cellist Mstislav Rostropovich.

The Young Americans get equal time on ABC for their Yankee Doodle brand of singing, dancing and effervescence.

Young People's Concerts, with Leonard Bernstein continuing on the podium, will be telecast this week (Sept. 14) and an undetermined number of other times this season on CBS.

FOR CHILDREN

CBS Children's Hour is one of two networks' attempts to inject some occasional substance into the fluff of Saturday morning television. It's a series of at least four drama specials designed for youngsters. Three of them have young boys for heroes—a lad (Shawn Campbell) who meets a salty lobster fisherman (Gary Merrill), a high-IQ misfit and a ghetto child.

NBC's American Rainbow is the other series of seven Saturday one-hour specials to be shown monthly. They vary from "Hot Dog," a frank look at familiar items of Americana; to "Wilderness Road," in which a fatherless boy goes west; to "Lincoln Center Children's Festival." Starts Dec. 27.

Archie and His New Pals gives CBS's popular Saturday morning comic-strip characters an evening half hour to play with this Sunday, Sept. 14.

Babar Comes to America, on NBC, is an animated sequel to last year's "Babar the Elephant."

Frosty the Snowman gets the cartoon treatment on CBS in December.

Goldilocks employs the voices of three Crosbys—Bing, wife Kathryn and son Nathaniel, 7; and all of daughter Mary Frances, who is seen as Goldy in NBC's combination of live-action animation and songs.

Hey, Hey, Hey—It's Fat Albert turns Bill Cosby's frisky boyhood buddies into cartoon characters for NBC's special, Nov. 12, narrated by Cosby.

Horton Hears a Who, a Dr. Seuss story on CBS, brings an elephant to the rescue of a town on March 12.

It Was a Short Summer, Charlie Brown, Sept. 27, is the season's new "Peanuts" special. CBS will also rerun five of the old ones.

NBC Children's Theatre has one new hour-long work in progress at the moment—"Miss Pickerell Goes Under-seas," with Fran Allison.

Uncle Sam Magoo is another new cartoon show, with Jim Backus, on NBC.

Winnie the Pooh and the Honey Tree, a 1965 movie short, is being brought to TV by NBC. Sebastian Cabot narrates the A.A. Milne tale, and Sterling Holloway supplies the voice of Pooh.

SPECTACLES

Award shows: the usual assortment of Oscars (ABC), Emmys (ABC), Tonys (NBC) and Grammys (NBC).

Beauty contests have dwindled to Miss Universe, Miss U.S.A. and Miss Teen-Age America (all CBS), plus last week's Miss America (NBC). →

The circus—as interpreted by the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey—will be back on NBC next spring.

Ice shows get two NBC airings: Peggy Fleming headlines an Ice Follies special (with Jose Feliciano); later, the Ice Capades.

ABC News will telecast a limited number of specials treating such subjects as inflation, congressional ethics, medicare, the Great Barrier Reef, "Automobiles: A Love Affair" and "Mission: Possible" (what we can do in the Seventies to solve our domestic problems).

CBS News still has its Tuesday night hour, in which 60 Minutes will continue to alternate with sundry topical specials. Documentaries currently in the works (in addition to those listed separately below) include "The Confessions of Francis Gary Powers" (the famous U-2 pilot); studies of political-convention reform, the Catholic Church (as viewed by Luigi Barzini), the grape-pickers' strike, health in America, the drug industry, the plight of the public schools, the role of foundations in American life, the First Amendment and "Football's Golden 100 Years" (Sept. 19).

NBC News has First Tuesday returning monthly, plus an assortment of one-hour specials, such as "Norman Rockwell's America" (Nov. 12), "Election '69: What We Have Learned" (Dec. 28), "The Raising of the Tecumseh" (April 24); and analyses of the controversy over pesticides, mental illness in adolescents, America's prairies, the Eskimos (also those described below).

A Day in the Life of the United States of America, filmed all over the country, is CBS's kaleidoscopic view of what the rest of us were doing the day Armstrong and Aldrin took their walk on the moon.

From Here to the Seventies, a two-and-a-half-hour NBC blockbuster, Oct. 7, explores "the condition of the United States as it is now, and what may be expected in the next decade."

Monogram Series encompasses four NBC programs about man and his natural environment—one about wolves (Nov. 18), one about the Sahara (Dec. 19), one about human evolution and one about mountain climbers.

The National Geographic Society is back with four new specials on CBS. The first, Oct. 14, displays varieties of animal behavior.

The Natural History of Our World: The Time of Man is the ponderous title of a CBS hour produced in conjunction with New York's Museum of Natural History. It's on this week (Sept. 18).

Project 20 concentrates on the American West this year in its two NBC documentaries—"The West of Charles Russell" (Jan. 7) and "The Great Shining Mountains" (May 27).

Royal Family, on CBS for 90 minutes next week (Sept. 21), is a uniquely candid glimpse of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II and her family.

The Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau rolls on, with four ABC episodes—on "The Desert Whales" (Oct. 28), sea elephants, octopuses and "The Call of the Deep."

The Unexplained, which will explore the unknown, is the first in a projected series of NBC documentaries produced in association with the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

They Said It Couldn't Be Done is the working title for an NBC documentary and entertainment program in tribute to men who accomplished seemingly impossible feats.

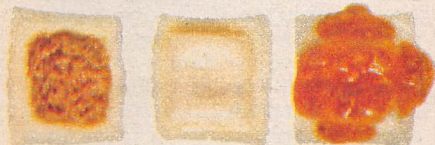

Who, What, When, Where, Why, periodic half-hour essays, will get six CBS airings. END

Kids think it's treat food

(but it's protein food.)

A Chef Boy-Ar-Dee® Beef Ravioli is all the good things kids love rolled up into one.

It's a square of macaroni, a bite-size helping of beef in the middle, and another macaroni square on top, cooked in thick tomato and cheese sauce.

Kids think these "meat and macaroni pies" taste too good to be good for them. But they are!

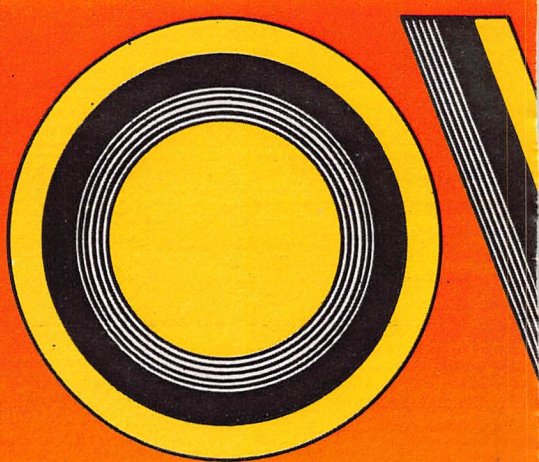

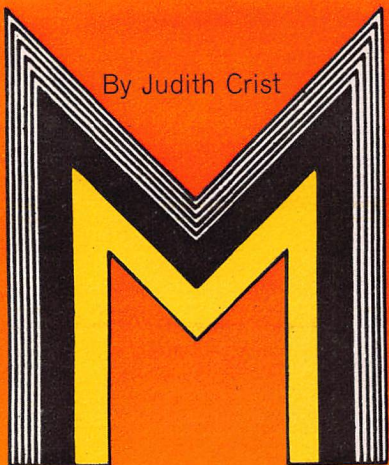

One serving of Chef Boy-Ar-Dee Ravioli has more protein than most lunchtime soups or sandwiches.

And at only about 18¢ a serving, the only thing that adds up is the protein.

Chef Boy-Ar-Dee Ravioli

By Judith Crist

Promises, promises—and nothing looks more promising than trailers for coming attractions or the lists of the theatrical movies, television movies and minimovies scheduled by the networks for the new season. Just as trailer-makers are prone, of course, to pick out bits and pieces of the best scenes to lure the customers, so, I must confess, does a list-scanner let her eye linger on old favorites or impressive credits on new works to find the '69-70 network-movie season attractive.

It will, to say the least, be a busy one. Where last season was the first to provide a network feature film each night of the week, the coming season will be the first to offer competitive network movies. Tuesdays will be the days—or nights, rather—when movie fans can start out with ABC's 90-minute Movie of the Week and, if they're not hooked after the first half-hour, turn to NBC's Tuesday-night film; if they are hooked, they can catch the last hour of NBC's movie when ABC's minimovie ends, thus getting themselves a feature-and-a-half or a feature-and-a-third.

Beyond this change, the network-movie season will follow the same formula as before—a good scattering of top-notch movies of the past several years, an even broader one of mediocre films, and concentrated clumps of awful ones. At this point NBC, with three movie nights to fill, has announced 62 new movies and 12 that it plans to rerun, to be supplemented by 17 World Premiere, or tailored-for-television, movies that have yet to be aired.

CBS has 41 new acquisitions and 14 films it plans to show again; it also has three feature-length pilots on hand and presumably will have a choice of eight television films under way at its Cinema Center 100.

And beyond the 25 minimovie films it is having made for its Movie of the Week program, ABC at this point has 24 new films and a half-dozen reruns slated for its regular network-movie programs. Thus the stay-at-home moviegoer has the prospect of seeing well over 100 movie-movies in the comfort of his armchair, if not of his intellect. But with NBC really promising, honest Injun, to show Tom Jones, let alone An American in Paris, The Fortune Cookie and A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum; CBS promising us Born Free, The Guns of Navarone, The Innocents and The Millionaires, and ABC promising Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines, Georgy Girl, Two for the Road and Divorce American Style—just to cite the toppers on each list—the '69-70 season is promising.

With only about half of its movies revealed at this point, ABC has a majority of hits on hand. (Let the cynics speculate privately on what the unannounced features are.) Those Magnificent Men, one of the best films of 1965, is a spectacular worthy of the name, an uproarious and beautiful tale of the crazy crates of early aviation, jam-packed with top-notch comedians, superslapstick and all the never-neverland trimmings of the Edwardian era, packaged in melody and affection. For spectacular contrast, there's also The Fall of the Roman Empire (my subtitle for it is "My Son the Crazy Emperor"), a Western with togas, that qualifies as one of the most lavish perfectly-awfuls of all time, complete with great actors, great sets and all the dead extras a movie buff could yearn for.

ABC's Georgy Girl, embodied by Lynn Redgrave and sparkling with contemporary truth about today's young people, and Our Man Flint, the merriest, nuttiest spy spoof for grownups, were among the best films of 1966, as was Dead Heat on a Merry-Go-Round, a sophisticated, literate and offbeat suspense comedy. The last two star James Coburn, who shows up too in

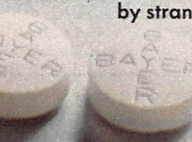

In Like Flint, an unworthy sequel to "Our Man." Scheduled too are two other "adult" delights—Two for the Road, Stanley Donen's joyous and sincere analysis of grown-up relationships via Audrey Hepburn and Albert Finney, and Norman Lear's Divorcee American Style, a slick satiric look at that great American institution. For the romantic, those who like their soap opera chicly wrapped and drenched with Chanel, there's A Man and a Woman, and those with a penchant for broader comment on the man-woman war will enjoy A Guide for the Married Man, sparked by Walter Matthau.

For adventurers, ABC will be offering that granddaddy of disillusioned-spy stories, The Spy Who Came In from the Cold; a raw, biting survival story in Cornel Wilde's The Naked Prey; a lyric and totally ingratiating surfing documentary in The Endless Summer. But don't think all is Grade-A, despite the promised reruns of The King and I and Cat Ballou. There'll be items like Jerry Lewis's The Family Jewels, the dreary remake of Stagecoach, the mechanical Nevada Smith—and reruns of The Cardinal and The Oscar, no less.

ABC's Movie of the Week is an unknown quantity but one made inter- → esting by the fact that the films will come from several production companies. On one level, for instance, there is to be The Unfinished Journey of Robert Kennedy, a documentary written by Arthur Schlesinger Jr. and produced by David Wolper; at another level there will be Gidget Grows Up, supplied by Screen Gems, for the fans of the "a Gidget is a Tammy Gadget" school of girlish high jinks. Suffice it that these 25 90-minute movies (with time out, of course, for commercials) will run the gamut, it says on the publicity releases, from comedy to drama to action-adventure to film biography to mystery-suspense.

At least on paper and in prospect, the how-to-kill-an-unwanted-wife theme, and sex and violence in general seem to be underplayed in Universal Pictures' 17 tailored-for-television films made as NBC World Premieres. Not, mind you, that mystery melodramas, spy plots and human aberrations are not touched upon. Among the more promising unknown quantities are My Sweet Charlie, a story of a white girl and a young black, both on the run from society, that made a fine novel and a very good play and comes to television with Patty Duke and Al Freeman Jr. Rod Serling will provide the plotting for a trilogy film, Night Gallery, with such stars as Joan Crawford, Richard Kiley, Roddy McDowall, Ossie Davis and Barry Sullivan on hand. We can, of course, suspect that an if-at-first-you-do-succeed theory, evolved from this past season's "Something for a Lonely Man," with Dan Blocker, has led to A Woman for Charley, which will star Blocker as a blacksmith who orders a bride (Nanette Fabray, no less) by mail.

On the theatrical-film front, NBC's quality newcomers and worth-while reruns are almost out-numbered by last year's flock of misses, a dozen or so minor movies that were obviously destined for the small screen from their inception. But let's hasten to add that if we do get Tom Jones—that superb pace-setting film that captures the human comedy and social satire of a classic with the frankness and lust for living of its period—all else is worthwhile. This best English-language film of 1963 is distinguished not only by excellence of script, cast and direction but also by its cinematic quality.

A pair of 1966 films also provide top comedy. The Fortune Cookie, a Billy Wilder film in the best cynicism-softened-by-humor Wilder tradition, teams Walter Matthau and Jack Lemmon in preparation for their later "The Odd Couple"; more important, it brought Walter Matthau to long-delayed stardom with his classic creation of Whiplash Willie Gingrich, a shyster supreme and bossy brother-in-law that a schnook shouldn't get caught dead—or alive—with. And A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum marked, of course, the stellar debut of Zero Mostel as the lyingest, cheatingest, sloppiest—and most endearing—slave in all of Rome. With Richard Lester as director (yes, friends, NBC has his Help! scheduled for a rerun), this Broadway musical hit emerges as a jim-dandy movie—with not only Mostel but Jack Gilford as well still on hand and a host of Hollywood pros to abet them.

NBC has also acquired two lovely movie musicals. The newer one is 1958's Gigi, the Alan Jay Lerner-Fredrick Loewe post-"Fair Lady" concoction based on the Colette novel about that turn-of-the-century Parisienne who is trained to be a mistress but winds up a wife. Directed with elegance and taste by Vincente Minnelli, it's a confection—thanks to an enchanting Leslie Caron in the title role. The older one—a screen classic, however—is 1951's An American in Paris, which combines the talents of Mr. Lerner as author and Mr. Minnelli as director with the music of George Gershwin, the brilliance of Gene Kelly, the charms of Miss Caron (in her screen debut) and the beauties of the whole city of → Paris in exquisite color and—wow! There is a lesser wow to the screen versions of stage musicals, with the music remaining the virtue of 1951's Show Boat and the brassy bigness emphasized in 1964's The Unsinkable Molly Brown.

On the nonmusical side, four superb performances—by Sidney Poitier, Shelly Winters, Elizabeth Hartman and Wallace Ford—override the errant sentimentality of A Patch of Blue to give this 1966 film credibility and great emotional appeal. Anthony Quinn, with beautiful support from Virna Lisi and others, is a prime factor in making The 25th Hour a powerful and affecting drama of a Romanian peasant falsely branded as a Jew and sent into slave labor. It is sheer production, with spectacular effects, that is top star for Operation Crossbow, 1965's gift to action - mystery - suspense - spy - movie fans. And fidelity-to-source competes for stardom with such big-name performers as Julie Christie, Terence Stamp and Peter Finch in 1967's Far from the Madding Crowd; fidelity wins, alas, and the result is a beautiful and bloodless novel disguised as a movie.

Beyond these the pickings are relatively slim on NBC. Charlie Chaplin's 1967 directorial disaster, The Countess from Hong Kong, with Marlon Brando and Sophia Loren coming a coupled cropper, is one of the few big-name items—unless you're star-mad enough to tolerate 1965's The War Lord, courtesy of Charlton Heston, or 1949's Samson and Delilah, courtesy of Hedy Lamarr and Victor Mature. Tony Randall demonstrates the art of heavy makeup in The Seven Faces of Dr. Lao, George Pal's 1964 fantasy film; Elvis Presley does it for his fans again—and again—in 1966's Spinout and 1968's Speedway. And Plymouth Adventure, made in 1952 with Spencer Tracy as the glowering captain of the Mayflower, shows you the kind of Hollywood historical → Better advice, for NBC watchers, is undoubtedly to keep an eye out for the rerun of Lillies of the Field, How to Murder Your Wife, the aforementioned Help! and the inexplicably traditional White Christmas. There will also be repeats of El Cid, The Train, The Hallelujah Trail, Pocketful of Miracles and Exodus.

The CBS roster of new films spans the decades, with some quality dredged up from 'way back and the general emphasis seemingly on family-fare films. The oldie on the list, for instance, is Anna and the King of Siam, a 1946 black-and-white film version of the story Rodgers and Hammerstein made their musical own with "The King and I." It's a charming film, with Irene Dunne delightful as the English governess and Rex Harrison giving a marvelously sophisticated portrait of the Oriental monarch. And one of the more recent films on the list is Born Free, the 1966 box-office hit about the lady and the lioness she loved.

CBS has also scheduled a quartet of fine 1961 films. Outstanding is Jack Clayton's The Innocents, a superb film interpretation of Henry James' "The Turn of the Screw," with Deborah Kerr as the governess, Michael Redgrave as her employer, and Martin Stephens and Pamela Franklin as the children whose purity is tinged with terror. Another lovely film based on a classic is The Millionairess. It's an eye-filling tongue-in-cheek screen romp, with Peter Sellers in top form as the meek Indian doctor and Sophia Loren at her most delicious as the rich lady looking for a love money can't buy. For lovers of Vivien Leigh there's The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone, based on Tennessee Williams' one novel. His compassionate story of an aging woman wracked by desires emerges on screen more as an atmospheric study of decadence, but Miss Leigh's performance is unforgettable. And of course there's that classic war-adventure-for-all-ages spectacular melodrama, The Guns of Navarone, to let you delight in the derring-do of such masters thereof as Gregory Peck, David Niven and Anthony Quinn. And add a fifth 1961 entry, Fanny, with Maurice Chevalier, Charles Boyer and Leslie Caron to revel in and make it an amiable entertainment.

CBS has its quota of "respectable" flops—The Visit, with Ingrid Bergman and Anthony Quinn in a watered-down version of the Duerrenmatt thriller; Island in the Sun, a very pretty 1957 potboiler about race problems in the Caribbean—and unrespectable ones, like Inside Daisy Clover, with Natalie Wood as a teen-ager who makes it big in Hollywood but returns to her own "values"; Mister Buddwing, with James Garner as an amnesiac, and The Sandpiper, a classic perfectly-awful about a "free" woman and a clergyman, portrayed by no less than Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton.

CBS is also planning more than a dozen reruns, with Seven Brides for Seven Brothers, The Americanization of Emily and Never Too Late the few worth waiting for. Films that were made basically as pilots for prospective television series, with such stars as Darren McGavin, Lloyd Bridges and Van Johnson, are The Challengers, dealing with Grand Prix racers, The Lost Flight, dealing with plane-crash survivors on a Pacific island, and The Protectors, dealing with big business and hired killers. Whether these—or the eight hush-hush Cinema Center 100 films—will be shown this season is not definite.

As we noted, for network movie watchers it's a case of promises, promises—and a season that looks promising. Whether the rewards will be qualitative—or just quantitative—remains, of course, to be seen. But not to worry—we'll be getting goodies with Herman's Hermits and Doris Day and Elvis and even Beach Party Bingo to sustain us along the way. END

SATURDAY The Andy Williams Show

The lone new Saturday night series brings Andy Williams back to the weekly routine with a musical-variety hour. "TV has grown up and people are getting more selective," says Andy. "I think they want something a little different. What we're trying to do is find combinations of people that will work together." The people so far include Victor Borge, Johnny Cash, Ray Charles, Petula Clark, Judy Collins, the Creed-ence Clearwater Revival, Sammy Davis Jr., the Edwin Hawkins Singers, Cass Elliot, Aretha Franklin, Don Ho, Bob Hope, the Monkees, the Osmond Brothers, Peter, Paul and Mary, Nancy Sinatra, the Smothers Brothers, Danny Thomas and Jonathan Winters. The show "will have something for everybody," Andy predicts. One episode pairs Lawrence Welk with Tiny Tim. Does that cover everybody? Debut: NBC, Sept. 20.

The Bill SUNDAY Cosby show

Bill Cosby used to say that as soon as he had made his bundle, he was going to quit show business and become a physical-education teacher. The Bill Cosby Show enables him to become a phys-ed teacher without abandoning either show biz or bundle making. He is cast as Chet Kincaid, a coach and teacher at a Los Angeles high school. It's a natural setting for Cosby, so many of whose comedy routines recall his own school days. There's one episode, for example, about a 5-foot-1 kid who tries out for the freshman basketball team and turns out to have "The Longest Hook Shot in the World." Some of the show's tales are told out of school and involve Chet's family—his mother (Lillian Randolph), his brother (Lee Weaver) and his sister-in-law (Olga James). In school, the characters include the principal (Sid McCoy), a guidance counselor (Joyce Bulifant) and miscellaneous students who enjoy snowing teachers. Debut: NBC, Sept. 14.

The Leslie SUNDAY Uggams Show

The hour-long gap left by the noisy departure of the Smothers Brothers is being filled by The Leslie Uggams Show. Producers Saul Ilson and Ernest Chambers (who were the Smotherses' original producers) say that Miss Uggams is doing a comedy show with music, not vice versa—roughly 60 percent comedy, 40 percent music. And they insist they are not shying away from satire. A regular feature is a family-comedy sketch called "Sugar Hill," sort of a black counterpart of "The Honeymooners." Two or three guests are expected to show up each week, among them Raymond Burr, Sebastian Cabot, Barbara Feldon, Don Knotts, Martin Landau and Barbara Bain, Mitch Miller, Sly and the Family Stone, and Dick Van Dyke. Yes, Tommy and Dickie have been invited to appear too. Once. Debut: CBS, Sept. 28.

SUNDAY To Rome with Love

If you think Italians sing all the time and talk like Chico Marx ("Watcha you step—no falla down"), To Rome with Love will be your dish of antipasto. Its executive producer is Don Fedderson (My Three Sons, Family Affair), who again is applying the patented Fedderson Formula: $W+3C+N^2=HR$ (widower plus three children and a square nanny equal hefty ratings). The widower in this instance is John Forsythe, in the role of a conventional Midwesterner who moves to Rome to teach at an American school there. The three kids are all girls this time (from left, Joyce Menges, Melanie Fullerton and Susan B. Neher). And this year's nanny is also a female—the girls' Aunt Harriet (Kay Medford). In an early episode one daughter gets arrested for fishing in the Trevi Fountain, another falls off a motorbike, and Aunt Harriet announces, "The first rule in any foreign country is never drink the water." Passa da chianti. Debut: CBS, Sept. 28.

The Bold Ones

The Bold Ones is a triple play—doctors to lawyers to law enforcers. It consists of these three 60-minute melodramatic series, alternating in one time slot. Debut: NBC, Sept. 14.

"The New Doctors" do their stuff at the Benjamin Craig Institute, where the ultramodern gadgetry sometimes tends to upstage the physicians and research scientists, who are (we are told in one episode) "quietly paving the way for breakthroughs so dramatic and exciting as to boggle the mind." The boggling is under the supervision of three doctors: Ben Craig (E.G. Marshall, at microscope), renowned surgeon who runs the institute; Ted Stuart (John Saxon, also in white), chief of surgery and man of many parts, including artificial hearts; and Paul Hunter (David Hartman), chief of medicine and medical research, who gets his jollies playing with computers.

"The Lawyers" are the firm of Nichols, Darrell & Darrell. The Darrells are brothers—conservative Brian (Joseph Campanella, lower right) usually wears a vest and plays his cards close to it, while his swinging sibling, Neil (James Farentino, center in group), sports double-breasted suits and likes girls. Senior partner, Walt Nichols (Burl Ives), prefers tweeds, foxy-grandpa tactics and profundities like this view of a jury: "I never try to outguess a 12-headed animal."

"The Protectors" are (1) a tough, dedicated, realistic, white deputy police chief (Leslie Nielsen, at top) and (2) a tough, dedicated, idealistic, black district attorney (Hari Rhodes). They work together to maintain law and order in their turbulent, teeming city but frequently clash over how the job should be done. Nielsen: "You politicians play fast and loose with your campaign promises; it's the cop on the beat who gets his head kicked in when they fail to materialize!" Rhodes: "Sam, you see three teen-agers loitering outside a pool hall, right away they're plotting civil insurrection. I see those same three teen-agers, to me it says they've got no place to go."

MONDAY The Survivors

Everything Harold Robbins touches seems to make a million dollars, so it was just a matter of time until television tried to rub up against him. Which brings us to Harold Robbins' The Survivors. ABC's star-studded new show is a continuing story, divided into weekly one-hour chapters. A huge cast of Beautiful People gallivant all over the globe, doing unspeakable things to each other and indulging in as many forms of carnal pleasure as Senator Pastore will allow. The producer says, "Our stories are about human beings who have the same kind of problems as you and I." For example: there's this playboy son-of-a-banker (George Hamilton) who likes to race sports cars, intervene in revolutions and mess around with girls and who has this glamorous half sister (Lana Turner) who is the mother of an illegitimate son (Michael Vincent) and wife of a philanderer (Kevin McCarthy, center) who embezzles $1,375,247.27 from the bank run by his tyrannical father-in-law (Ralph Bellamy) who . . . Debut: ABC, Sept. 22.

My World MONDAY And Welcome To It

Says John Monroe: "I hate women. Oh, I know I married one, but there wasn't anything else around." And: "Children frighten me. They're too smart, all of them." And: "Imagination is what makes life tolerable." Monroe's world is actually the world of the late James Thurber, translated into television terms. In order to make Thurber's knife-edge whimsy compatible with those terms, the producers and writers have to go beyond the conventional limits of situation comedy—they utilize cartoon settings (based on Thurber's scrawly drawings) and wild daydream sequences (based on the humorist's shaggy stories). Monroe (William Windom), a writer and cartoonist for a magazine, is intimidated by his loving wife (Joan Hotchkis), precocious daughter (Lisa Gerritsen), dyspeptic editor (Harold J. Stone) and two hostile dogs (Christabel and Irving). He's happier in the cock-eyed world of his imagination, and he spends as much time there as he can. Debut: NBC, Sept. 15.

MONDAY The New People

A planeload of young people crash-lands on a remote Pacific island. Chances of rescue are almost nil, so they must start creating a new civilization from scratch. "For them," say producers Aaron Spelling (The Mod Squad) and Harold Gast in a breathless press release, "this is Year One. Theirs is a new world that they are going to bend, fight, twist and chew on. . . . The New People is a Genesis in these terms." Unlike God, The New People have only 45 minutes a week (minus commercials) for their task of creation. There are, however, a lot of them to begin with; all sorts of conflicting types, of course—senator's naive daughter, black militant, vicious racist, well-meaning premed student, knuckleheaded football hero, grass-smoking hippie, Ivy League conservative, etc. They attempt to resolve their conflicts in numerous ways, most of them luridly melodramatic. The six regulars (from left: Tiffany Bolling, Peter Ratray, David Moses, Jill Jaress, Zooney Hall, Dennis Olivieri) are joined every week by New People who come out of the woodwork to help bend, fight, twist and chew. Debut: ABC, Sept. 22.

Love, American Style MONDAY

One of the world's oldest subjects is wrapped up in one of television's newest formats. The subject is love; the format is an hour containing two, three or four playlets of varying lengths, bridged by blackouts, with everything played for laughs. Blind dates, motel trysts, mother-in-law problems, marital spats, lust, infidelity—the possibilities are (theoretically) unlimited but (realistically) restricted to what qualifies as suitable family entertainment. The lovers and losers are portrayed by the likes of Red Buttons, Wally Cox, Bob Crane, Phyllis Diller, Paul Ford, Arte Johnson, Gary Lockwood, Garry Moore, Stefanie Powers, Ann Sothern, Connie Stevens and Flip Wilson. The blackouts are performed by a regular stock company: Bill Callaway, Buzz Cooper, Mary Grover, Stuart Margolin, Lynne Marta, Barbara Minkus and Tracy Reed. Debut: ABC, Sept. 22.

The Music Scene

ABC hopes to end its competitors' Monday ratings superiority with the help of a pair of back-to-back 45-minute shows: The New People (P. 34) and, preceding it, The Music Scene, which one of its producers grudgingly describes as "a contemporary version of, I hesitate to say, Your Hit Parade—but what is happening in music today." They will build up a bank of pretaped performances by artists whose records appear to be heading toward the top of the charts. Then, five days before air time, they get an advance peek at Billboard's latest rankings, pull out appropriate tapes and create a balanced show—a mixture of rock, country-and-Western, jazz, ballads, folk, etc. Each number is introduced by The Music Scene's own troupe of strolling satirists. Debut: ABC, Sept. 22.

Moment of Truth At Hand for Network Brass

Another new TV season is at hand, as this issue of TV GUIDE amply attests. Around the networks, the mood in recent days could best be described as one of quiet but apprehensive waiting. Nobody was making rash predictions as to the outcome of the resumed ratings race, but it was generally assumed few surprises were in store. NBC brass appeared to be pinning their hopes for a new hit mainly on . . . Then Came Bronson, a wandering motorcyclist's adventures hopefully offering some of the new-generation lure of the movie "Easy Rider." At CBS the chief worry perhaps was how Leslie Uggams would stand up against Bonanza. If she falters, Hee Haw, a summer sleeper, most certainly will be brought back. At ABC, programming gambles abound. The Music Scene is touted as a likely click. In such other ventures as the highly troubled The Survivors, an original Movie of the Week and Love, American Style, ABC could bloom or bust. (To give The Survivors and Love, American Style the best possible shot at early-ratings success, ABC decided at the last minute to delay the two shows' debuts for a week—until Sept. 29—so they wouldn't have to compete with a Sept. 22 Bob Hope special on NBC.) There is apparently some foreboding in ABC inner circles that trouble lies just ahead. But no TV show is a flop until the viewers have voted, and viewers have been known to vote unpredictably.

The man who, more than any other has been in the thick of those Emmy battles, which seem to erupt with monotonous regularity in the wake of the annual awards, is quitting in disillusionment and disgust. Peter Cott, dedicated wheel horse of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences for 13 years, says he has resigned as executive director because he feels the TV industry "couldn't care less" about the Academy beyond seeing it dish out awards. Despite resolute efforts to make the Emmys "the cleanest and best" of all the entertainment awards, Cott charges that the networks see no reason to help the Academy out of a deepening financial crisis by upping the $250,000 yearly ante for the Emmy show, which is the Academy's main ticket. In desperation the 7000-member Academy, Cott says, recently tried to enlist support among the Hollywood studios, and they, too, "repudiated" the appeal. "Reluctantly," Cott observes sadly, "I came to the conclusion that a concept so esoteric as the Academy has very limited appeal to the TV interests. My resignation, I feel, is a reflection on the state of an industry that has become defensive, crass and hard-nosed." He castigated the networks for "almost totally ignoring" pressing national concerns in prime time, meanwhile grinding out entertainment he regards as hardly worthy of awards. He said he had "had it" and was leaving even though he has no new job in sight. "I might return to the theater," the ex-actor said. "There's still a chance to say something there." —Richard K. Doan

RESENTS GENERALIZATIONS

The big thing the "generation gap" showed was that most of the parents and their youngsters are not like those interviewed. Two mothers referred to the younger generation as "they," assuming all youngsters were like theirs. "They" don't work, "they" don't have any responsibilities, "they" don't know the value of money, etc. I resent this. Parents can classify their own children any way they like, but not mine—they don't know mine!

FACING THE MUSIC

"The Dusty Trail to 'The High Chaparral,'" [Aug. 23] tells us that Leif Ericson's stereo was playing Brahms C Major. Interesting, inasmuch as Brahms never wrote a C Major symphony. His four symphonies are D Major, F Major, C Minor and E Minor.

I simply don't understand. Why are so many programs, even in prime time, geared to children's levels? In Dick Cavett we have an informative, entertaining, adult program. CRAWFORD'S CAREER

In "Lady in the Dark" [Aug. 16], Joan Crawford is quoted as saying, "And, honey, if after 22 years of acting. . . ." The book, "The Films of Joan Crawford," indicates that Miss Crawford's first film, "Pretty Ladies," was made in 1925.

GOURMET FROM HUNGER

I hope that in talking about exclusive diets ["As We See It," July 26] you had in mind a replacement for The Galloping Gourmet, too. To Kill a Mockingbird
The Endless Summer
Nobody's Perfect
The Ballad of Josie
Who's Got the Action?
The World, the Flesh and the Devil
Made in Paris

We're right on the brink of the new season what with three premieres among the week's network movies that also include the long awaited re-run of "To Kill a Mockingbird."

The new-to-television films include an outstanding 1966 documentary and two 1968 theatrical films—and the speed with which the latter have hit the small screen should provide a hint of their quality. The documentary, however, is a dazzling study of surfing, far beyond the beachnik elements usually exploited on film. Combining a charmingly informal commentary with first-rate photography, producer-writer-director-narrator and co-photographer Bruce Brown has come up with a beautiful and refreshing film guaranteed not only to explain but also to endear surfing and surfers to the sourest old desert rat among us. Brown has recorded a 35,000-mile trip around the world he took with two other enthusiasts in search of year-round summer and surf—and the thrills and pure joy of their adventure are yours to share in "The Endless Summer."

A "new" Doris Day (no longer the overage chased virgin) emerges in "The Ballad of Josie" as a widowed frontier mommy who is caught up in a war between the sheepmen and the cattlemen. Courtesy of slightly anachronistic hairdos, Miss Day looks very much like a Pekingese and manages to act like one, yipping and yapping and cutesying her way through the old range war. And the third newcomer, "Nobody's Perfect," is what is known as a "wacky" Navy comedy. Ho hum. Pretty Nancy Kwan is on hand as a pretty Navy nurse; Keye Luke, once Charlie Chan's No. 1 son, is around as her uncle, and the ship, a submarine rescue vessel, is infested with cockroaches. Ho hum.

"To Kill a Mockingbird" heads the re-runs and once again we can revel in Gregory Peck's Oscar-winning performance and the scene-stealing delight of three youngsters in Harper Lee's story of a man of decency in a small Southern town in the Thirties. It may seem a bit sentimental about race relations today, but its human values are enduring. Race relations—will Inger Stevens marry Harry Belafonte or Mel Ferrer?—become pure gimmickry in "The World, the Flesh and the Devil," however, the film starts out beautifully as the story of a survivor in a world made barren by atomic warfare but finally boils down to the old Hollywood bit about two men and a girl on a desert island. This 1959 film is slightly dated sociologically today—but its sequences of a deserted New York are worth catching.

For comedy (in theory, at least) there's the pseudo-Runyonesque "Who's Got the Action?" with Lana Turner as a bookie and "Made in Paris," an un-stylish unoriginal about a clothing buyer. And these definitely make it a week in which to revel in surfing and mockingbirds.

In some areas network movies may not be seen on the days indicated.

JETS VS. BILLS

Return: New York's Super Bowl Jets open the season against the Bills at Buffalo. Reporters: Curt Gowdy and Kyle Rote. (Live)

New York . . . The Jets (11-3) may be even stronger than last year. The nucleus of the attack (third in the AFL) is about the same: QB Joe Namath (12) and his golden arm; outstanding wide receivers George Sauer (83), third in the league, and Don Maynard (13), fifth; runner Matt Snell (41); and field-goal expert Jim Turner (11), the AFL's top scorer. Improvement may come from punter Steve O'Neal (20) and rookie kick-return men, led by Mike Battle (40). The defense topped the AFL, sparked by end Gerry Philbin (81). Cornell Gordon (48) replaces injured cornerback Johnny Sample.

Buffalo . . . The Bills had many injuries, and pro ball's worst offense and worst record (1-12-1). Health and the top draft choice, runner O.J. Simpson (36), should improve the statistics. At press time, new coach Johnny Rauch had three possibilities for the No. 1 QB berth: veterans Jack Kemp (15) and Tom Flores (16), and rookie Jim Harris (12). Haven Moses (25) is a fine wide receiver. The defense, fifth in the AFL, is stocked with solid vets, led by end Ron McDole (72).

should improve with Pete Beathard (11) looking good at QB. Runner Hoyle Granger (32) is excellent and the receivers good. The defense ranked second, featuring linebacker George Webster (90). The Raiders (12-2-1) led the AFL on offense and rated third on defense. QB Daryle Lamonica (3) has a fine runner in Hewritt Dixon (35) and swift ends, led by Fred Biletnikoff (25). Defensive stand-out: end Ben Davidson (83). Reporters: Charlie Jones and Al DeRogatis. (Live)

MAKE ROOM FOR GRANDDADDY

Special: Danny Thomas stars in a new chapter in the TV chronicle of night-club comic Danny Williams and family.

The Williams household is tingling with anticipation: college student Rusty and his wife Susan are about to make Danny a grandfather, and he's prepared for every contingency—except the one that occurs. The young couple decide they must move away from the frenetic family nest to await the baby's arrival.

Don Rickles appears as himself; Tim Conway plays a super-nervous gentleman in the hospital waiting room; and Danny, who directed the hour, sings "This Is All I Ask" and "From This Moment On."

Supporting cast . . . Kathy: Marjorie Lord. Rusty: Rusty Hamer. Uncle Tonooose: Hans Conried. Susan: Jana Taylor. Linda: Angela Cartwright. Charley: Sid Melton. Landlord: Milton Selzer. (60 min.)

THE FATAL PHONE CALL

Debut: Emmy winner Cosby returns to weekly network TV in a half-hour comedy series set in a Los Angeles high school.

Cos plays Chet Kincaid, physical-education instructor, athletic coach for all sports and occasional substitute teacher. Series regulars include Lillian Randolph as his widowed mother, Lee Weaver as his brother Brian and De De Young as sister-in-law Verna.

Tonight: Chet interrupts his jogging to answer a ringing telephone in an outdoor booth. Better he should have kept running. The call gets him embroiled in a domestic squabble, and, seconds later, the police are out to arrest him.

COLTS VS. COWBOYS

Special: The Baltimore Colts meet the Cowboys in a pre-season game at Dallas. Reporters: Chuck Thompson, Jerry Kramer and Frank Glierber.

Baltimore . . . The Colts (13-1), upset victims in the Super Bowl, could top the NFL again. Johnny Unitas (19) has wrested the starting QB berth from Earl Morrall (15), 1968 MVP. Willie Richardson (87) leads a good wide-receiving corps, and tight end John Mackey (88) is among the best. The ground game moves with solid vet Tom Matte (41), but lacks depth. The defense, featuring end Bubba Smith (78) and linebacker Mike Curtis (32), led the NFL last year by allowing only 144 points (tying the record). Dallas was second, allowing 186. The Colts ranked second to Dallas in points scored, 431 to 402.

Dallas . . . Capitol Division champs, the Cowboys (12-2) open with Craig Morton (14), a strong QB replacement for retired Don Meredith. Lance Rentzel (19) and Bob Hayes (22) lead the excellent receivers. The running, sparked by Walt Garrison (32), is good despite Don Perkins' retirement. Defensive stand-outs: tackle Bob Lilly (74), end George Andrie (66) and defensive back Mel Renfro (20).

THE ENDLESS SUMMER

Bruce Brown's critically acclaimed study of surfing, the surprise hit of 1966, opens the new season of network movies.

Brown's film is a lyrical chronicle of his 35,000-mile trek in search of "the perfect wave." Following the sun with Brown: surfers Mike Hynson and Robert August.

Stops along the way . . . Africa: the boys become the first surfers on a beach in Ghana; a cross-desert trip to the lonely beach at Cape St. Francis. Australia: lots of fellow surfers, fewer waves. Tahiti: spectacular footage captures the beauty and danger of the infamous "Pipe Line," which calls for special boards, extraordinary talent—and ambulances waiting on the beach.

At 28, Brown wrote, produced, directed, edited and narrated the film.

TV TACKING

Sailors often have to describe a zig-zag course, in order to arrive at their destination. This is called tacking, and may be likened to the dial-hopping of a televiewer, searching for a program he likes.

TV GUIDE carefully charts the shifting waters of TV, so you can find the program you want, without the fuss of "TV tacking."

THE PROBLEM IS RICHIE

Debut: A healthy dose of realism distinguishes this series about a black teacher at an integrated urban high school.

Tonight: history teacher Pete Dixon (Lloyd Haynes) faces a classroom crisis involving Richie Lane, his brightest student. The boy has registered illegally at Walt Whitman High, fearing he'd be shortchanged at the ghetto school in his own district.

Pete's concern for the youngster leads to confrontations with guidance counselor Liz McIntyre (Denise Nicholas), crusty principal Seymour Kaufman (Michael Constantine) and wide-eyed student teacher Alice Johnson (Karen Valentine). Richie: Howard Rice.

Script by series creator James L. Brooks. Location filming at Los Angeles High School. Directed by producer Gene Reynolds.

NATURAL HISTORY (C)

8:00 10 5

THE TIME OF MAN

Special: By changing his environment, man threatens his own existence. The question now is whether he can save himself.

This program, produced in association with the American Museum of Natural History, takes a historical view of this ecological dilemma. Films trace the evolution of life and examine species that have vanished because they did not adapt to changing conditions, notably the dinosaur. (Rare film from the 1920s recounts the discovery of dinosaur eggs in the Gobi.)

Man, too, interacts with his surroundings. In Africa, anthropologist Colin Turnbull contrasts Pygmies living in happy harmony with their jungle to members of the Ik tribe, whose bleak and loveless society reflects a hostile environment. In the South Pacific, Margaret Mead observes the devastating impact of modern life on a primitive culture.

A montage of 20th-century events and people introduces modern man's predicament: a burgeoning technology that produces pollution and overpopulation as by-products of progress. Will it save man—or take him the way of the dinosaur?

Richard Basehart narrates. Produced, written and directed by Marshall Flaum ("Let My People Go"). (60 min.)

Now you try all the latest cosmetics from famous a lavish $10.00* Beauty Kit

Styles in make-up change just like styles in clothes—only faster!

The mad scientists keep inventing new things to make you prettier. You keep thinking up new ways to use them. It's groovy, but . . .

How Do You Stay Mod without Going Mad?

How do you keep up with all the new products and new ways to use them—without spending half your time haunting cosmetics counters (and half your budget trying all the exciting new things)?

Here's a dazzlingly simple suggestion. Just mail the coupon below, and join the World of Beauty. You'll never give in to a smarter impulse. Because this coupon entitles you to:

- A lavish new Beauty Kit of famous-name cosmetics guaranteed worth at least $10.00 but yours for only $1.00!
- The opportunity to go on getting similar kits of prestige cosmetics and beauty products, automatically, about once every ten weeks, for as long as you want—for about half what you'd expect to pay.

What Kind of Cosmetics?

Each of these fabulous Beauty Kits will be crammed with the latest cosmetics from the finest companies. You'll receive goodies for your face, your hair, your eyes, your skin. You'll revel in new lipsticks, eye make-ups, moisture lotions, bath oils, hair colorings, complexion soaps, blushers, night creams, bubble bath—dozens of mad, mod things to try.

Each kit will be guaranteed worth at least $10.00, and often values will run much higher. Yet you pay only $4.98 per kit plus shipping and handling for those you choose to keep. And you're always welcome to send back for full credit any kit that doesn't please you. So you won't be spending a fortune. And you're never risking a penny.

What If You Change Your Mind?

A woman's privilege! Your World of Beauty membership is good for as long as you want it. But you're free to cancel any time you want with no questions, no quandary. There's no obligation on your part, ever. And your $10.00 value kit for $1.00 is yours to keep, regardless.

So?

So mail the coupon. Join the beauty happening of the year—for less than the price of a new lipstick. Get a whole $10.00 bundle of famous-name cosmetics for $1.00. Do it today!

Now Possible To Shrink Hemorrhoids Stop Itching and Relieve Pain IN MOST CASES.

Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases—to stop burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. Tests by doctors proved in case after case, while gently relieving pain and itching, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

The answer is Preparation H®. There is no other formula like it for the treatment of hemorrhoids. Preparation H also soothes inflamed, irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Pazo® not only shrinks hemorrhoids in most cases, but actually starts relieving throbbing pain on contact—and for hours.

In fact, this soothing pain relief begins within seconds after you finish applying Pazo.

In moments, Pazo's anesthetic formula starts to ease the pain, quiets the itching and irritation.

And, Pazo lubricates the sensitive area thoroughly—in most cases, provides continuing relief for hours.

For a sample, write PAZO, Box 953, Yonkers, N.Y. 10701. Include 25¢ and please specify suppository or ointment.

If your hemorrhoids need something more effective than Pazo...
maybe it's surgery.

The Debbie Reynolds TUESDAY Show

For her entry into weekly television Debbie Reynolds has the production and writing services of Jess Oppenheimer, who created I Love Lucy. And the show looks it. Debbie's husband (Don Chastain) isn't a bongo player whose dizzy wife keeps getting him into trouble; he's a sportswriter whose dizzy wife keeps getting him into trouble (she wants to prove that Jim's paper ought to hire her as a reporter). And instead of meddling next-door neighbors, we have Debbie's meddling sister (Patricia Smith), brother-in-law (Tom Bosley) and nephew (Bobby Riha). One plot finds Debbie disguising herself as a caddie; another has her impersonating a Japanese wrestler. The comedy is as subtle as the three bops on the noggin and one pair of falling trousers that are the dramatic highlights of one of the episodes. Debut: NBC, Sept. 16.

Movie Of TUESDAY The Week

These are the minimovies Judith Crist describes on page 21—90-minute flicks made expressly for this Movie of the Week series. In addition to the two Mrs. Crist mentions, there are such assorted items as these: "The Pigeon," private-eye stuff with Sammy Davis Jr.; "The Ballad of Andy Crocker," drama about a returning Vietnam veteran, with Lee Majors; "Seven in Darkness," with Milton Berle and Dina Merrill as blind survivors of a plane crash; "Wake Me When the War Is Over," wacky comedy with Ken Berry and Eva Gabor; "Foreign Exchange" and "The Spy Killer," a pair of foreign-intrigue stories, with Robert Horton, Jill St. John and Sebastian Cabot; "The Immortal," science fiction, with Christopher George, Ralph Bellamy and Carol Lynley; "Honeymoon with a Stranger," suspense, with Janet Leigh; "Mr. Jericho," action-comedy, with Patrick Macnee and Connie Stevens; "Blue Water Gold," underwater adventure, with Keir Dullea and France Nuyen; "Carter's Army," war drama with racial overtones, starring Robert Hooks; and "Daughter of the Mind" in which Ray Milland, as a scientist, meets the spirit of his dead daughter. Debut: ABC, Sept. 23.

If you only need Fems extra inch of protection once, it's served its purpose.

New Fems, the one-inch longer feminine napkin, is hours safer. And now there's a deodorant for extra security.

New Fems are at least an inch longer than other feminine napkins. That's extra absorbency when you need it. Long end tabs and a special safety shield add to your comfort and security. So does an effective deodorant. You'll probably never need all the protection of new Fems, but it's nice to know it's there!

TUESDAY Marcus Welby, M.D.

Unlike the other two new medical-drama series (Sunday's "The New Doctors" and Wednesday's Medical Center), Marcus Welby, M.D. is based outside a hospital—in the Santa Monica, Cal., offices of a general practitioner. Welby is an old-timer whose credo is, "We don't treat fingers or skins or skulls or bones or lungs—we treat people." He deplors his profession's drift away from general practice and toward more and more specialization. He hopes that his young assistant—who'd rather be a neurologist and who is, needless to say, brilliant and headstrong and makes house calls on a motorcycle—will carry on the GP tradition. The two doctors treat everything from obesity to cardiac infarctions to LSD effects—every kind of complaint except Portnoy's. Robert Young stars as Welby, James Brolin is Dr. Steven Kiley, Elena Verdugo is their office nurse and Anne Baxter turns up now and then to take widower Welby's mind off his materia medica. Debut: ABC, Sept. 23.

When the Grants go camping, they keep right on Polyunsaturating...

with a big assist from Mazola.

Mrs. Grant is not a health fanatic. But she does pay attention to what many medical authorities are saying about the American diet.

So, her family has cut down on calories and total fats, and they are replacing solid fats with the polyunsaturated vegetable oils.

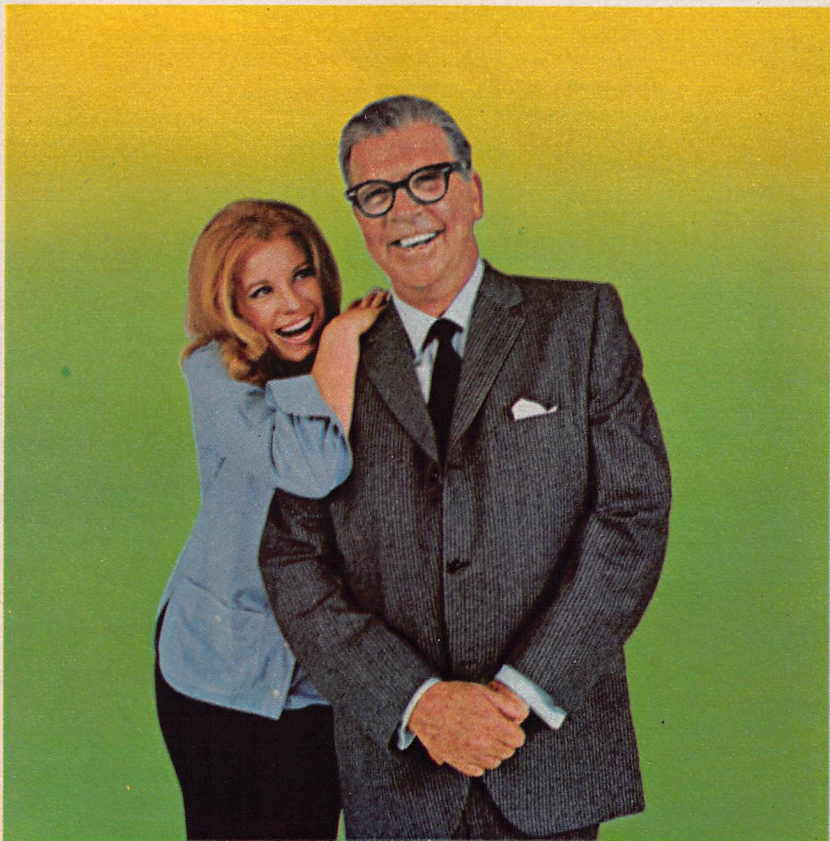

Mrs. Grant uses Mazola® Pure Corn Oil. Why Mazola? Because it's higher in polyunsaturates than any other leading national brand.

To Mrs. Grant, that makes Mazola Pure Corn Oil more than worth the few extra pennies it costs.

P.S. She's using Mazola® Margarine, too. It's made with liquid Mazola Corn Oil.

The TUESDAY Governor And J.J.

And still the widowers keep coming. This one's Gov. William Drinkwater, played by Dan Dailey, looking appropriately distinguished though somewhat over his best dancing weight. His first lady is his 23-year-old daughter J.J. (for Jennifer Jo), who has red hair, bell-bottoms, a job at the zoo and an uncanny knack for getting her father into—then out of—political hot water. She's portrayed pertly by Julie Sommars. The Governor's Mansion also contains a wise-cracking secretary (Neva Patterson), a wise-cracking political aide (James Callahan) and a wise-cracking maid (Nora Marlowe). The scriptwriters, under the supervision of Get Smart's Leonard Stern and Arne Sultan, keep one eye on the laugh machine and the other on the headlines; e.g., "What's new?" "Well, looks like we're gonna have another of those student protests." "I asked you what's new." Debut: CBS, Sept. 23.

Medical Center WEDNESDAY

The place is a university hospital and, in observance of television's sacrosanct traditions of medical dramaturgy, the protagonists are a statesmanlike older doctor (James Daly) and a gifted younger one (Chad Everett); phrases like "aortic stenosis" and "massive pulmonary embolism" fill the air; patients face uncertain futures pluckily or cravenly; families pace the halls and accuse doctors of malpractice; and the suspense mounts while nurses mop surgeons' brows. "Emotion-packed high drama" is what the network doctors ordered, and we get it in 60-minute doses. One show, for instance, contains a generation-gap clash, an unwed mother's dilemma, a surgeon's agonizing choice between saving an unborn baby or the mother's damaged kidney, the escape of a critically ill patient from the hospital. Debut: CBS, Sept. 24.

WEDNESDAY Room 222

Television has had schoolteacher heroes and heroines before—ranging from the silliness of Our Miss Brooks to the earnestness of Mr. Novak. Still, there's never been one quite like Pete Dixon (Lloyd Haynes), who teaches American History in Room 222 of integrated Walt Whitman High School. It's not just that Pete is a black man—this is no longer a TV novelty. But in this half-hour comedy-drama the life he leads has the feel of reality, despite scripts that are shrewdly calculated to entertain. It shows up in things like the refreshingly natural man-woman relationship of Pete and Liz McIntyre (Denise Nicholas), a school counselor. Supporting players include Karen Valentine, as an eager-beaver student teacher ("I have this way of getting on people's nerves"), and Michael Constantine, as the long-suffering principal ("On my civil-service examination they asked me can you be a louse and I said yes, so they made me a principal"). Debut: ABC, Sept. 17.

Then WEDNESDAY Came Bronson

Jim Bronson chucks his job, hops on his motorcycle and goes varooming around the country, squinting through his shades as he searches for The Meaning of Life. Bronson is played by Michael Parks, who says he doesn't want to be compared with Brando or James Dean but won't be able to avoid it. He's very big on meaningful pauses but not terribly strong on conversation. A typical chat goes like this. Man:

"Where you from?" Bronson: "Northwest." Man: "Where you headed?" Bronson: "Southeast." Man: "Why this road?" Bronson: "There's an enduro next Sunday at Lake Powell." Man: "Enduro?" Bronson: "Motorcycle race." Man: "You gonna be in the race?" Bronson: "Uh-huh." The one-hour series is filmed entirely on location, all over the U.S. First stop: the mountains of Wyoming. Debut: NBC, Sept. 17.

The WEDNESDAY Courtship Of Eddie's Father

Wednesday's widower is Tom Corbett (Bill Bixby), who is "managing director" of a magazine. His gap-toothed son Eddie (Brandon Cruz) continually embarrasses his old man by trying to get him married off ("Eddie, you just can't keep going around inviting stray ladies into our apartment!"). What embarrasses Corbett scandalizes his gentle housekeeper (Miyoshi Umeki), who has a superb command of the language—only her language is Japanese (she goes to school three nights a week to learn English and comes home saying things like "Little Boy Blue, come blow your spoon"). Things aren't any calmer at the offices of Tomorrow magazine. There, Eddie's father has to put up with the looniness of a flamboyantly mod madman of a "creative director" played by Jimmie Komack, foreground, who is also the series' producer-writer and makes sure that he gets the best gags. Debut: ABC, Sept. 17.

I moved out on my mother-in-law and lost 65 pounds

By Bonnie Franz—as told to Ruth L. McCarthy

I'm not 21 here, but at 198 lbs. only old women's dresses fit.

I'm still reducing, but at least, at 133 lbs., I look my age.

I was only 16 when I married. And since my husband and I had very little, we moved in with his folks. That's when I learned I was living with the best hot-roll maker in Williamsburg, Maryland. Yes, my mother-in-law is some cook. You should taste her goulash and fried potatoes with onions, too. Why, in a matter of months, I'd gained 40 pounds.

There were tensions, too. When Kenny and I'd be fussing, the family took sides. To console myself, I ate. And ate.

Finally, we got a place of our own. An old trailer. And I decided to trim down. I tried everything, including a reducing drug. Still, I stayed fat. In fact, after my second child was born, the scale hit 198 pounds.

About then, I began to read of the people who'd used that reducing-plan candy, Ayds. I decided to try it, so I got a box of the plain chocolate fudge-type at the drugstore.

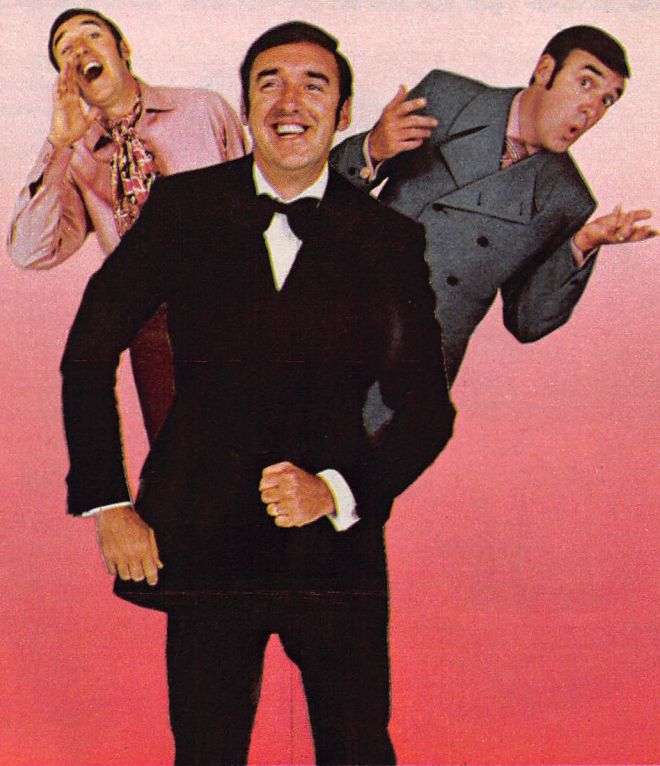

I took Ayds like the directions say. And by having that candy before meals, it not only helped me curb my appetite, but I didn't seem to crave sweets afterwards.

Well, I followed the Ayds Plan until I reached 133 pounds. And I can't tell you what it's like to look and dress young once more! I'd still like to lose 10 more pounds, so now I'm trying Ayds in another flavor. That doesn't mean that I never get to enjoy my mother-in-law's cooking these days. But now, thanks to the Ayds Plan, it's a thinner me that goes to dinner.

The Jim Nabors Hour THURSDAY

If you liked Gomer Pyle, you'll probably like The Jim Nabors Hour twice as much—it's twice as long. The uniforms are gone, and there's lots of singing and dancing, plus sketches and Laugh-In-like comedy blackouts. But Gomer's Frank Sutton (Sergeant Carter) and Ronnie Schell (Duke) have re-enlisted for new comedy assignments, and the order of the day is still relentlessly broad, folksy humor. "You bet your sweet hush puppy," as somebody says at one point. Karen Morrow, the Tony Mordente dancers and Paul Weston's orchestra also back up Nabors. The guest roster includes Carol Burnett, Mary Costa, Glen Campbell, Ernie Ford, Andy Griffith, Rock Hudson, Minnie Pearl, Don Rickles, Kate Smith and Leslie Uggams. Debut: CBS, Sept. 25.

Introducing the other Swedish pastime. The bourbon smoke.

Good Kentucky bourbon is about as American as you can get. Yet it took the Swedes to discover that bourbon can actually soften the taste of pipe tobacco. Soften, yes, but not mask. Add flavor but not disguise it.

They put bourbon into Borkum Riff. The result: a unique, definitely rich smoke that won't bite.

You'll like it. Borkum Riff the bourbon smoke. From Sweden where blondes were invented.

FRIDAY Bracken's World

Bracken's World is Hollywood's version of what Hollywood is like—bigger and glossier than life. Bracken, who runs "Century Studios," is never seen, though you occasionally catch a glimpse of his hand or the back of his head. His world is populated by such familiar figures as (foreground) his take-charge executive secretary (Eleanor Parker); and (grouped at right) the churlish Brando type (Stephen Oliver), the mother-hen acting coach (Elizabeth Allen), the blond stuntman who's studying for a law degree (Dennis Cole) and the backstage mother (Jeanne Cooper); plus (grouped at left) the hotshot producer-director (Peter Haskell), the alcoholic wife (Madlyn Rhue) and, bless them, the luscious starlets—Linda Harrison, Laraine Stephens and Karen Jensen. They all speak fluent Hollywoodese: "You were mahvelous!" . . . "You lay a script on me and I'll show what I've got!" . . . "He gave you too much too soon. Stardom. Fame. Fortune. You weren't ready, Paula. You couldn't handle it." . . . "Just wait till I make it big, then we'll tell them all where to go." You'll laugh! You'll cry! Debut: NBC, Sept. 19.

The Brady Bunch FRIDAY

This season's widows-and-widowers epidemic reaches an inevitable climax in The Brady Bunch. Widow (Florence Henderson) marries widower (Robert Reed, late of The Defenders), and they live happily—if frenetically—ever after. Frenetically because he has three sons and a dog, and she has three daughters and a cat, all of whom have to coexist under one roof without any help from U Thant. There is also (surprise) a beleaguered housekeeper (Ann B. "Schultz" Davis, foreground). The youngest of the kids, Cindy (Susan Olsen), gets most of the punch lines. Mom: "I've got a few butterflies in my stomach." Cindy: "Were you sleeping with your mouth open, Mommy?" The Brady Bunch is produced by Sherwood Schwartz, who brought you Gilligan's Island, which helps explain why (in the opening episode) the dog and cat make a shambles of the wedding, and the bridegroom ends up with cake all over his face. Debut: ABC, Sept. 26.

About that deodorant problem only a girl has.

Consider it solved.

The problem, as you very well know, is how to keep the most girl part of you—the vaginal area—fresh and free of any worry-making odors. And the happy news is that now, finally, there is a way.

It's called Pristeen.[®]

Pristeen is a brand-new vaginal spray deodorant that's been especially developed to cope with the problem.

It works externally, because that's where the trouble starts. Tension and pressure can cause it. So can getting all hot and perspire-y. So can your own natural body functions. No matter. Whatever starts those troublesome vaginal odors, Pristeen stops them—effectively. And nicely. And very very gently.

Pristeen has been developed out of intensive research and tested in leading hospitals under the supervision of gynecologists. While you work your way through busy days, it protects you calmly and quietly, all day long. Pristeen is sure. Completely sure. And it is safe.

Why take chances? Starting today, why not make Pristeen as much a part of your daily life as your bath or shower. It's just as essential to your cleanliness. And to your peace of mind about being a girl.

An attractive, nice-to-be-with girl.

A medically sound treatment for most painful hemorrhoids

First, stop the pain. And the itching. Nupercainal® is a unique combination of lubricants plus the most effective topical pain reliever available without a prescription. It relieves pain and itching fast. Provides much longer lasting relief. Nupercainal also soothes inflamed tissue—in turn helps the natural healing process. Moreover Nupercainal facilitates natural movements.

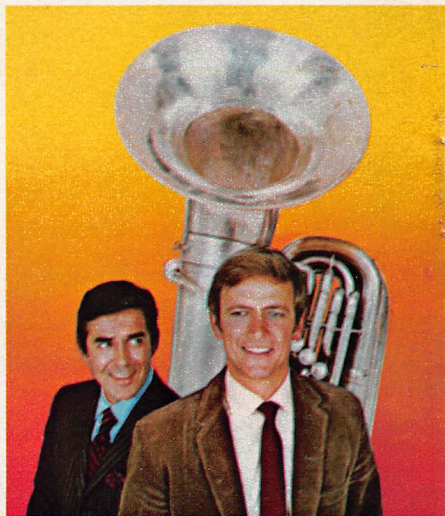

Next, doctors recommend, use common sense. Stay off spicy, highly seasoned foods. Avoid constipation and what causes it. Such as lack of rest and bad eating habits. Stay regular. Sitz baths aid comfort and natural healing.

Above all, use caution. Nupercainal brings relief in most cases and for most types of hemorrhoids. But if symptoms are severe, persistent, frequently recurrent...if there is rectal bleeding...do see your doctor.

Mr. FRIDAY Deeds Goes To Town

It worked in 1936, when Gary Cooper starred in the Frank Capra movie "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." The hero was a tuba-playing, fire-engine-chasing, small-town newspaper editor who inherited a fortune, went to the Big City and, through sheer fumble-footed goodness, vanquished all the conniving slickers. It seems a little dated now—or does it? Executive producer Harry Ackerman (Bewitched, The Flying Nun) doesn't think so. And in this era of Flower Power and Love Children, he may be right. But right or wrong, Longfellow Deeds is back, in a contemporary setting but still the bumpkin from Mandrake Falls, still calling everyone "ma'am" or "sir," still tilting at the Establishment's windmills. Monte Markham (The Second Hundred Years) plays Deeds. Pat Harrington Jr., left, is his pal and advisor. And Herb Voland is the stuffy vice president of the company Deeds wishes he hadn't inherited. Debut: ABC, Sept. 26.

Jimmy Durante FRIDAY Presents The Lennon Sisters Hour

Somebody—quite possibly the same chap who named the Edsel—decided to call this show Jimmy Durante Presents the Lennon Sisters Hour. By combining 76-year-old James F. Durante with the under-30ish Lennons (from the left, Kathy, Janet, Peggy and Dianne), the producers of JDPTLSH hope to end up with something that will appeal to viewers of all ages and offend none of them. There are hummable songs and energetic production numbers, punctuated by Durante's clowning. Each hour includes three or four guest performers, the likes of Jack Benny, Joey Bishop, Glen Campbell, Phyllis Diller, Mike Douglas, Bob Hope, Fess Parker, Roy Rogers and Andy Williams. How will the Lennons hit it off with Durante? As Jimmy says in the opening show, "You goils have been woikin' wit' Lawrence Welk so long, it must be a pleasure to be wit' a guy who can handle de language." Debut: ABC, Sept. 26.

STRONG STUFF

No quitter this.
Kills germs by millions.
So strong it keeps breath fresh hour after hour.

Some of the most inviting TV of the season ahead will often be found on the country's 180-odd non-commercial stations, otherwise known as the public, or educational, channels. Recent months have seen the slow birth of a fourth national TV network linking these stations for programs from National Educational Television. Now a Public Broadcasting System, fathered by the new Corporation for Public Broadcasting, has come into being as the pipeline for NET and other noncommercial programs. The network expects to pump out up to 15 evening hours weekly (three a night, Sunday through Thursday) of culture and information, plus an hour weekday mornings beamed exclusively at preschoolers.

Sesame Street is indisputably the most prestigious, exhaustively researched effort ever undertaken to teach preschoolers (3 to 5) at home through TV. At a cost approaching $8 million, a Children's Television Workshop set up jointly by the Carnegie Corporation, the Ford Foundation and the U.S. Office of Education will turn out five hour-long telecasts per week for 26 weeks beginning Nov. 10. Most stations will air the programs at 9 or 10 A.M., many will repeat them in the afternoon, some will rerun all five hours every weekend. Target: 12 million TV-oriented tots. Aim: to instruct them without seeming to.

The "shows" will borrow many of the most effective techniques of commercial TV—the 60-second sell, jingles, cute cartoons, slapdash live action, etc.—to drill the children in elementary 3R's and give them basic reasoning skills and an early awareness of the world they'll face. Sesame Street will be heavily promoted in disadvantaged neighborhoods.

The Forsyte Saga, which was an immense hit in England and has been seen in 80 countries (including even the Soviet Union), finally arrives on American television Oct. 5. It is one of two hour-long series that will fill the Sunday night gap left by the termination of the Public Broadcasting Laboratory's two-year experiment, PBL, which ended last spring. Saga contains 26 chapters, drawn by the BBC from the famed John Galsworthy novels.

The Advocates, a series of courtroom-style debates, is the other half of PBL's sequel. It was suggested by a series conducted on Boston's WGBH-TV by Harvard Law professor Roger Fisher, who will serve as "executive editor" of this national version. Top-flight lawyers will argue the pros and cons of such issues as the draft, pollution, decentralized schools and guaranteed income for oldsters. The Advocates will be seen live across the country at 10 P.M. Eastern Time (7 P.M. on the West Coast) beginning Oct. 5.

NET Playhouse, singularly honored this past season with both Emmy and Peabody awards as the best dramatic series on TV, will be back weekly → with an assortment of teleplays ranging from an interpretation of "Hamlet" by Africa's Ghanaian National Theater to a translation "for adults" of Grimm's Fairy Tales by the Yale Repertory Theater, starring Mildred Dunnock and Alvin Epstein. Some of the dramas will have historical backdrops: "Heimskringla, or The Stoned Angels," by Paul Foster, author of "Tom Paine" and "The Recluse," will deal with Leif Ericson's pre-Columbus voyages to North America; "Ceremony of Innocence," by Ronald Ribman, author of the award-winning "Journey of the Fifth Horse," pictures England's Edward II caught between doves and hawks in his 14th-century court; "Glory Hallelujah!" will be a Civil War drama enacted by San Francisco's ACT company. Among offerings from abroad will be a BBC production of August Strindberg's "The Father."

NET Opera will be introduced under a half-million-dollar Ford Foundation grant. Dr. Peter Herman Adler, music and artistic director of the NBC Opera Company from 1949 to 1960 and conductor of the Baltimore Symphony until last year, has been engaged to produce three English-language operas. The first to be set is a U.S. premiere of "From the House of the Dead," by Czech composer Leos Janacek. (In a separate undertaking, the Corporation for Public Broadcasting has commissioned avant-garde composer Michael Colgrass to write the libretto and score for "Nightingale, Inc.," his story of a Mafia attempt to create an opera company. Colgrass hopes it will be "a modern form of commedia dell' arte.")

NET Festival, as in the past, will be something of a musical grab bag of opera, ballet, dance and documentary, its upcoming collection being as diverse as a backstage visit with pop-singer Peggy Lee and a comparison of interpretations of "Hamlet" by such actors as Sir John Gielgud, John Barrymore, Nicol Williamson and Richard Chamberlain. Such musicians as Glenn →

Nothing locks in freshness and keeps it there like Tupperware. So don't be surprised at what it costs.

To understand the cost of Tupperware, there are some things you have to understand about Tupperware.

Like the unique Tupperware Seal with its almost unbelievable ability to lock in freshness.

And the Tupperware "burp." A built-in feature for squeezing air out. Giving you extra freshness.

These are just two of the features that help Tupperware keep food fresher, longer than anything else. So, although a Tupperware container may cost more in the beginning, it saves you money in the long run.

Actually, the best way to understand Tupperware is to have a Tupperware Party. You'll find your local distributor in the Yellow Pages under "Housewares." Give her a call.

Gould, Leopold Stokowski and Mstislav Rostropovich will be profiled. Operas will include Benjamin Britten's "Peter Grimes" and Verdi's "La Traviata." Britain's Royal Ballet will be seen in "Coppelia" and Canada's National Ballet in "Swan Lake" and "Cinderella." A documentary on Beethoven will salute the 200th anniversary of his birth.

NET Journal again will be an umbrella for experimentation in real-life TV. Examples: One hour-long edition will cover in detail the trial of a Black Panther militant in Denver. In another, filmed by University of California students at Berkeley, the generation gap will get a going-over. In still another, politically conservative columnist-and-TV-host William F. Buckley will present tart "essays" on life in America as he sees it. Some other possible topics: prison conditions, parent-child relationships, the troubles of the Navajo Indian, and how we get along with the Japanese.

The Smoking Decision, five half-hours produced under a $200,000 grant from the American Cancer Society, will be designed to give smokers "a meaningful insight into their smoking habit and help them decide whether they want to change the habit."

The Special Projects Unit will continue delivering topical prime-time specials like last season's "backgrounders" on the Middle East and China, and extended look-ins at Congressional hearings and United Nations debates.

Week-long themes will be an occasional innovation this season. At such times, programs like NET Journal, NET Playhouse and News in Perspective all will be devoted to the same topic in an effort to develop it fully.

Children's programs, besides Sesame Street, will include 65 new color episodes of Misterogers' Neighborhood and at least 40 new editions of What's New. END

what's new in old shows

Changes in old shows for new-season viewing read like a Vital Statistics column, with the accent on weddings and birth announcements. It's all part of the annual TV game of introducing new characters to boost waning interest in returning series.

My Three Sons' Fred MacMurray ends the widower status he has had since the show began in 1960. Fred is marrying Beverly Garland, who played Bing Crosby's wife in his short-lived series a few seasons back. Miss Garland portrays a widow who brings along her little daughter (played by Dawn Lyn, 6).

I Dream of Jeannie finally lets Barbara Eden wed Larry Hagman, the astronaut with whom she's been living these past four years.

Bewitched's twitchy Samantha, Elizabeth Montgomery, has her second child on the series early this fall. Coincidentally, she's also getting a new actor for a husband—Dick Sargent replaces Dick York. And Alice Ghostley materializes as Esmeralda, an inept witch.

Get Smart's Don Adams (Agent 86) and Barbara Feldon (Agent 99) were married on their series last year, so it's only natural to expect a birth announcement this season. Mrs. Maxwell Smart presents the viewers with twins (one of each sex) sometime in a few weeks.

Here Come the Brides regular Bridget Hanley gets a brother-and-sister-in-residence on the show this fall. They will be played by Patti Cohoon, 10, and Eric Chase, 9.

Other series are making changes too, replacing people who have left, or introducing new characters:

Laugh-In adds Pamela Rodgers, Teresa Graves, Byron Gilliam and Jeremy Lloyd. Last season's Chelsea Brown and Dave Madden have departed.

Daniel Boone has hired Roosevelt Grier, ex-football player and singer, to play Gabe Cooper, a runaway slave who has become Chief Canawahichquaoo of the Tuscarora Indians.

Adam-12 police officer Jim Reed (Kent McCord) talked about his wife last season, but we never saw her. This year we will, when Mikki Jameson appears in the role and gives birth to a child.

The Good Guys, who work in that cramped old diner, are moving their show to the beach, restaurant and all.

The Virginian lost a ranchhand when lanky David Hartman left to become a doctor in The Bold Ones, NBC's new series. Tim Matheson replaces him.

It Takes a Thief introduces us to Robert Wagner's father, who is a crook like his son. Dad is played by Fred Astaire. Malachi Throne, Wagner's boss last season, won't be back.

The Doris Day Show adds a couple of characters and takes its star out of the barnyard. Doris becomes a commuter when she goes to work for a chic magazine in San Francisco. Rose Marie, veteran of The Dick Van Dyke Show, resumes regular TV duty as a co-worker of Doris's. Their boss is played by McLean Stevenson.

Mission: Impossible lost two regulars when Martin Landau didn't renew his contract, and his wife, Barbara Bain, decided to sit things out with him. Leonard Nimoy, formerly Mr. Spock on Star Trek, is a new Mission agent (minus the pointy ears). No regular replacement for Miss Bain is set. END

Inspire Your Skin To Greater Heights Of Beauty

A lovely skin has truly become a feminine joy since scientists uncovered the secrets of a rare tropical moist oil with a remarkable ability to help nature sustain the youthful splendor of the skin.

Today it is possible to use this unique moist oil to give the skin a "do-it-yourself" incentive to maintain the healthy productivity of balanced oil and moisture. These two vital elements are taken for granted while the skin is very young and nature bountifully provides her own moist oil fluids to keep the baby-softness and dewiness alive, but after the age of twenty the natural flow becomes less spontaneous. The maturing complexion suddenly finds itself in need of substitutionary fluids that will help stimulate the flagging cellular functions of the skin.

This is the time when the scientific moist oil comes into its own. Being isotonically pressurized to balance successfully with natural fluids, this tropical fluid contributes to the inducement of the skin to rise to new heights of splendor. Its perfect blend of oil and moisture is homologous to the skin's own fluids, readily merging with existing reserves and helping to boost dwindling levels.

Smoothed over the face each day and used as a superb base for make-up, the beauty fluid promotes the stimulation and replenishment of the plasma colloids (dermal water-carriers) by hygroscopic attraction to the skin of moisture always present in the surrounding atmosphere.

This moist tropical oil is obtainable in most countries of the world and here in America is available from druggists as oil of Olay.

Beauty Skin-Care Consultants Recommend

To gain the best benefits of the beautifying properties of this moist oil and to keep your complexion clear of wrinkle dryness always smooth on a film of oil of Olay beneath your make-up to protect and beautify your complexion whilst ensuring your make-up has perfect matt beauty.

* * *

To keep your lips soft and pretty, give them a generous quota of the beautifying moist oil when you do your face. This light film of oil of Olay will also act as a foundation for the smooth and lasting application of your lipstick.

Sociologist Thorstein Veblen once observed that "The temperament which inclines men to sports is essentially a boyish temperament. [It] marks an arrested development of the man's moral nature." Veblen may be right or he may be wrong, but one thing is plain: American males who are accustomed to ingesting their sports via the television tube are in for a long, hard season of attack upon their moral natures during the 1969-1970 period.

Here's what's in store for the sports fan:

Professional Football: CBS will bring you the National Football League starting on Sept. 21, with most of the 111 regular-season games to be aired regionally on 14 Sundays through Dec. 21. NBC will once again be broadcasting the American Football League, with this year's schedule running from Sept. 14 through Dec. 14.

That will be followed by a spate of play-off games and the usual post-season games in both leagues. Double-headers will abound, including pairs of Thanksgiving contests on CBS and NBC. This year it's CBS's turn to broadcast the Super Bowl Game from New Orleans on Jan. 11.

College Football: ABC plans to air 11 national and 26 regional games of the National Collegiate Athletic Association beginning Sept. 13. Four will be done nationally in the evening: Air Force at SMU, Sept. 13; Mississippi at Alabama, Oct. 4; Notre Dame at Georgia Tech, Nov. 15; and UCLA at USC, Nov. 22. ABC also will be doing the Liberty and College Division bowls, Dec. 13; North-South Shrine Game, Dec. 25; East-West Shrine Game, Dec. 27; the Sugar Bowl, Jan. 1; and the Hula Bowl, Jan. 10.

On New Year's Day, NBC will have a pair of bowl contests: the Rose Bowl from Pasadena, Cal., and—in prime time—the Orange Bowl from Miami. NBC also will do the Gator Bowl on Dec. 27 and the Senior Bowl on Jan. 10. CBS will telecast the Sun Bowl from El Paso, Texas, on Dec. 20 and the Cotton Bowl from Dallas on Jan. 1.

Baseball: The World Series is scheduled to get under way Oct. 11 on NBC. The network points out that if the series goes seven games (as it did last year), viewers will see four games on weekend dates: Oct. 11, 12, 18 and 19. This year for the first time, the major leagues will have divisional play-offs, and NBC will give full coverage to these best-of-five confrontations starting Saturday, Oct. 4.

When baseball season rolls around again in April 1970, NBC will be doing 25 big-league games on Saturday afternoons and three Monday nights. →

Those national telecasts are preceded by Baseball Today, featuring interviews with the players.

Basketball: ABC will be doing about 18 National Basketball Association games, including the play-offs, starting Dec. 25. (There's a chance of additional play-off games in prime time.) NBC will televise four rounds of the National Collegiate Athletic Association championship tournament starting March 7, with afternoon double-headers on that date, as well as March 14 and 21 (the finals). The semifinal games will be aired in prime time on Thursday, March 19. CBS will cover the National Invitation Basketball Tournament in March, consisting of a first-round game and the championship final on consecutive weekends.

Ice Hockey: Starting Jan. 4, CBS will again present a National Hockey League Game of the Week, live and in color on Sunday afternoons, climaxed by coverage of the Stanley Cup Play-offs (approximately the end of April).

Golf: NBC has the Bing Crosby Pro-Am Golf Championship from Pebble Beach, Cal., in January and the Bob Hope Desert Classic from Palm Springs, Cal., Feb. 7-8. The 36-hole World Series of Golf—matching the champions of the Masters, PGA, U.S. Open and British Open—will be aired in September (1970). Wonderful World of Golf is set for seven Saturday afternoons starting in January.

CBS will broadcast the Masters from the Augusta National Golf Club on Saturday and Sunday, April 11 and 12. In January begins the seventh annual CBS Golf Classic on Saturday afternoons. Thirty-two pros will take part in a best-ball, match-play elimination tournament at the Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio. There'll be 14 elimination matches, 18 holes each, and a two-day 36-hole final.

ABC has 13 golf events in its schedule, including the Andy Williams San Diego Open, the PGA Championship, the Westchester Golf Classic, the U.S.

Open and the British Open.

Bowling: The Professional Bowlers Tour will start Jan. 11 on ABC.

Horse Racing: CBS once again will be doing the Triple Crown in May and June; the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Tennis: NBC will again have the Wimbledon Open Tennis Championships, the oldest and most prestigious tennis tournament in the world, via satellite from England next July; and next fall CBS will have the U.S. Open Tennis Championships from Forest Hills, N.Y.

Skiing: The 1970 FIS (Federation of International Skiing) World Skiing Championships will be televised on NBC via satellite from Val Gardena, Italy, and Vysoke Tatry, Czechoslovakia, on three weekends in February. These championships, like the Olympics, are held every four years.

ABC's Wide World of Sports, the network's Saturday afternoon potpourri, will have such assorted goodies as the Canadian Grand Prix; the International Ski Flying Championship and World Figure Skating Championships from Yugoslavia; Lew Alcindor's first regular-season pro basketball game televised live; the U.S.-USSR boxing matches, also live; the World Wrist Wrestling Championships from Petaluma, Cal., and the World Table Tennis Championships from Munich, Germany.

Returning for its sixth season on Sunday afternoons will be ABC's The American Sportsman, with its celebrity hunters and fishermen prowling the world for game. END

The end of the unimportant occasion.

Champale® is quite unlike anything you've ever tasted—except champagne.

But Champale costs only pennies more than beer. And you can buy it wherever beer is sold.

Which makes it an absolutely ideal way to lift a picnic or a pizza right out of the doldrums.

Try Champale Malt Liquor anytime you feel like making something out of nothing.
